

Helpful Hints for Chaperones

Our team of IKEducators are excited to work with your students at the Eisenhower Presidential Library, Museum and Boyhood Home! Please take a moment to review these helpful hints with the chaperones* accompanying your group to ensure a fun and memorable experience.

Keep an eye out!

Please keep an eye on the students you are chaperoning and stick together.

Hands off, buddy!

Even small hands can do big damage. Please refrain from touching the exhibits.

Take it slow!

Enjoy the scenery and remind students to walk, not run while they are inside.

Food for thought!

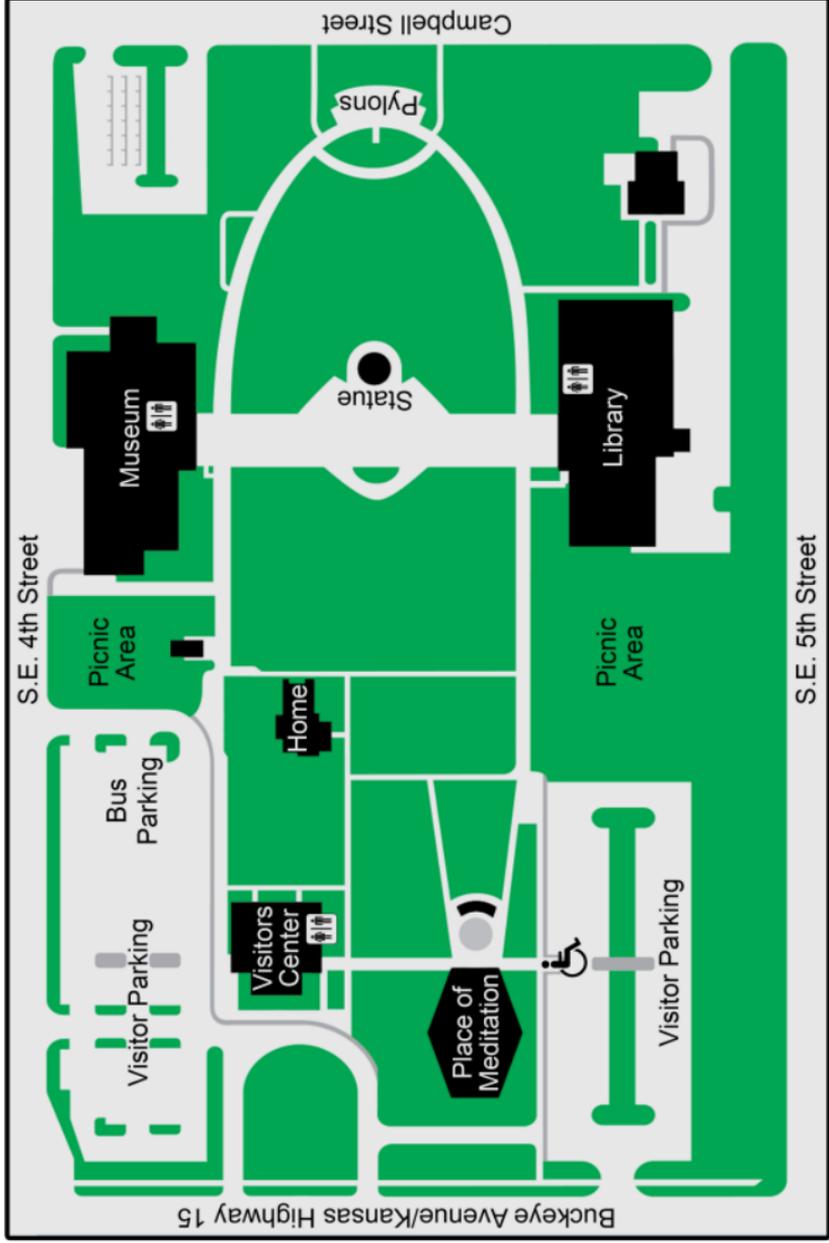

Help us preserve the artifacts. Please leave food, drinks and gum outside the buildings.

Say Cheese!

We encourage you to take photos of the exhibits, however, please do not use flash.

*One adult per five students will be granted free admission in exchange for their active supervision. Any additional adults or siblings are expected to purchase a regular admission ticket upon arrival.
