

FLAT IKE'S ADVENTURES

The Flat Stanley books by Jeff Brown have been entertaining young readers for years, while also starting a movement that has taught kids lots about geography and social studies. IKEducation wants to continue that effort, so we are sending a flattened version of the eleven foot statue of General Eisenhower that overlooks his Presidential Library, Museum, and Boyhood Home to your schools for an amazing adventure! Please take photos with Ike around your school and share them with any notes or descriptions that document his trip.

WE CAN'T WAIT TO SEE YOUR FLAT IKE ADVENTURES!

EXTENSION ACTIVITIES:

- ★ Find out more about this statue and its sculptor at www.dwightdeisenhower.com/266/The-Eisenhower-Statue
- ★ Figure out how to position Flat Ike in front of your camera so the photo looks as if this eleven foot statue is overlooking your school.
- ★ Determine what direction you would have to travel to get to Ike's hometown of Abilene, Kansas from where you live. How long would it take to get there by car? Can you map it? Would you be driving on the Eisenhower Interstate Highway system?
